

Exhibit 19

Blocking People

How can I stop someone from contacting me?

What is blocking? What happens when I block someone?

You can block someone to prevent them from seeing things you post on your profile, starting conversations with you or adding you as a friend. Blocking someone you're friends with will automatically unfriend them.

People you block won't be able to:

- See things you post on your profile
- Tag you in posts, comments or photos
- Invite you to events or groups
- Start a conversation with you
- Add you as a friend

When you block someone, you also won't be able to do things like start a conversation with them or add them as a friend. Keep in mind that blocking someone may not prevent all communications or interactions (ex: in apps or groups) and only affects your interactions with that person on Facebook.

Note: When you unblock someone, you won't automatically be friends again. If you block a friend and then unblock them, you'll need to send them a new friend request.

How helpful did you find this answer?

View Full Article · Share Article

How do I block someone?

How do I unblock someone?

Who can add me as a friend?

What if I can't find the person I want to block?

If I block someone, will they be notified?

After I block someone, can I see anything about that person?

How do I block someone from following me?

Facebook © 2016

English (US)

About

Privacy

Careers

Ad Choices

Create Ad

Create Page

Terms & Policies

Cookies